

JSAA e-bulletin May 2008

Dear members,

Apologies for the barrage of JSAA news of late. If you do have anything for the newsletter, please make sure it reaches us in time for your deadline!

Three quick items for today:

1. Don't forget - JSAA AGM has been rescheduled for 12:45-1:30, Thursday 3 July. Venue to be announced later at the ASAA conference. The venue of the ASAA conference is: The Sebel Albert Park Hotel, 65 Queens Road, Melbourne, Victoria 3004. To add items to the agenda, please contact: Ikuko Nakane (inakane@unimelb.edu.au) or Michelle Hall (hall@unimelb.edu.au)

2. A new AJF-funded Visiting Fellowship scheme (operated by the Australia-Japan Research Centre, ANU).

Please see the attached pdf file about this Fellowship. The deadline is today (!) but there is some flexibility about when applicants take up the fellowship. Please contact Trevor Wilson at the Australia-Japan Research Centre. T: +61 2 6125 0569 F: +61 2 6125 0767

3. There is a new English-language degree program in the Graduate School of Interdisciplinary Information Studies at the University of Tokyo. This new Master's/Doctoral degree course in "Information, Technology, and Society in Asia" (ITASIA) offers a unique opportunity for postgraduate students to study Asian societies and international relations in Japan with instruction entirely in English.

The application deadline for this year is June 27, 2008. <http://itasia.iii.u-tokyo.ac.jp/>

4. The forthcoming Women in Asia conference at UQ has different deadlines for different aspects - please see www.jsaa.info under Conferences for the updated closing dates.
